These questions tell us something about how you respond in challenging situations. Please answer them using examples from your experiences in academic, social or working life

1. Please tell us about experiences and people that have over time shaped your decision to consider a management career within Unilever and in your chosen function in particular. What efforts have you made to test out your choices?(300 word limit imposed) *

I always had preferred marketing as it is a career that includes a lot of creativity, not just routine work. Unilever is well known as a very professional company and it has a lot of successful products in the market that are used on daily basis and by everyone.

2. Using an example of a time when you were in a new environment and had to achieve a task, please describe a) how you established and used a network of contacts, and b) how you set about influencing people, to help you achieve your task. (500 word limit imposed) *

The marketing professor in my college requested a project that shows how companies define their marketing plans for their products and their promotion strategies, we were group of 4 students and we were between several options, but I convinced my colleagues that we base our study on Unilever as it would be different than any other option since they have several products which have the same use and we wanted to know the reason for that, as well as we use their products on daily basis in our normal daily activities. I used my network of contacts where I arranged a meeting with one of the marketing managers in the company as we had many questions to prepare our project and better understand the marketing strategies for the company.

3. Tell us about an occasion when you have taken the initiative to learn and develop yourself in significantly new ways. Why did you want to do this, what did you do and what was the result?(300 word limit imposed) *

Last summer, I started my first training @QNB & as it was my first one I wanted to develop myself in different ways I wanted to prove myself and to take responsibilities toward any task they gave me. so I asked them to teach me how they work not just watching them while they are working. I told them to rely on me which it was something I wasn't sure of so they deliver some tasks to me and to use the computer to make some transaction and at the end of each day they check on what I accomplished. As a result I learned by myself and also I didn't fail them

4. Tell us about a time when you saw the opportunity to really make a difference for the future of an activity, team or organization. What did you do, what obstacles did you overcome, and what happened as a result? (300 word limit imposed) *

Few days ago I applied to join Leo club it's a social charity club they put us in groups in order to think about a project that help or give something back to the community as I was surrounded with group of people I don't really know I had to overcome my tenseness and my low self confidence as we had less than an hour to think or create a project I had to leave all this behind trying to interact with them and to gain confidence to present the project in front of all the groups and to inspire them to accept it, which is exactly what happened.

5. Tell us about a time when you have had to analyse and understand a complex situation in order to make decisions and put a plan into action. What did you do and what was the outcome? (300 word limit imposed) *

After graduating high school, I wanted to join faculty of commerce french department, but my father disagreed as it's a new department and it might be risky and not organized, it was a big decision since it was concerning my future, but I wanted to join this department and I thought of it as a very good chance to improve my french language as well as the number of students is much less which allows a much better chance of good learning and it is supervised by a french university called Poitiers, I convinced him by discussing these points with him and he agreed, and I never regretted such a decision.
