1) Was president of the Economics Student Society at the American University of Beirut in my senior year -Organized stands for AUB's 2013 high school fair, representing the Economics department. -Organized a career speed networking event for Economics major students. -Organized a workshop entitled "The Art of Networking" for economics students delivered by the motivational trainer Andre Abi Awad. -Organized stands for AUB outdoors; got sponsors for our stands. 2) Completed INJAZ AL ARAB's professional skills development program entitled "Steer your Career" that was held at AUB. 3) Participated in the fourth Al-Walid GC-Model UN national high school conference that took place at the Lebanese American University

These questions tell us something about how you respond in challenging situations. Please answer them using examples from your experiences in academic, social or working life

1. Please tell us about experiences and people that have over time shaped your decision to consider a management career within Unilever and in your chosen function in particular. What efforts have you made to test out your choices?(300 word limit imposed) *

Last semester, I participated in "The Quest by Unilever", and throughout the competition I did a lot of research and was very fascinated by the way Unilever operates especially with its "sustainable living plan" and I felt that a job at Unilever would be challenging indeed, but fun at the same time because you have to come up with new ideas every day which drives away the routine. After all it is something that you'll be doing for a long time. Then we visited Unilever's office during the competition and saw how fun and committed the staff are, which made me more interested in trying to join Unilever.

2. Using an example of a time when you were in a new environment and had to achieve a task, please describe a) how you established and used a network of contacts, and b) how you set about influencing people, to help you achieve your task. (500 word limit imposed) *

I think the period between high school and university was the most challenging since I had to start learning to be independent after having to move out and live in Beirut alone.

3. Tell us about an occasion when you have taken the initiative to learn and develop yourself in significantly new ways. Why did you want to do this, what did you do and what was the result?(300 word limit imposed) *

Being president of the Economics student society at AUB and having to meet and interact with new people everyday. That made me learn new things about myself one of which is that I really like socializing with new people and cooperating with them to organize events. I really enjoyed preparing for events and having to search for sponsors to fund them, which is something I didn't know about myself.

4. Tell us about a time when you saw the opportunity to really make a difference for the future of an activity, team or organization. What did you do, what obstacles did you overcome, and what happened as a result? (300 word limit imposed) *

Throughout my experience in the Economics society as well, I had a responsibility towards the members of the society and had to come up with ideas for events everyday. The events had to be beneficial for us as Economics students. I managed to invite motivational speakers to join us for workshops, and career experts that helped us draw a clear path for our future and have a glimpse of what we want to do after we get our BA which I think was very helpful for me and for the members.

5. Tell us about a time when you have had to analyse and understand a complex situation in order to make decisions and put a plan into action. What did you do and what was the outcome? (300 word limit imposed) *

With a group solving a case study given to us by "Peppers and Rogers" during AUB's job fair. It wasn't an easy task but we managed to think of a considerable number of solutions for the proposed problem after trying to figure out all its dimensions, and finally presenting our conclusions.
