These questions tell us something about how you respond in challenging situations. Please answer them using examples from your experiences in academic, social or working life

1. Please tell us about experiences and people that have over time shaped your decision to consider a management career within Unilever and in your chosen function in particular. What efforts have you made to test out your choices?(300 word limit imposed) *

being in a leading position in many of the non academic activities i did i have come to the conclusion that a good student doesn't necessarily mean a good manager or a good practical engineer. as important as a technical background is it takes more that just academics to join Unilever and that's why i considered joining the team.

2. Using an example of a time when you were in a new environment and had to achieve a task, please describe a) how you established and used a network of contacts, and b) how you set about influencing people, to help you achieve your task. (500 word limit imposed) *

when i did my internship in Germany i had to deal with people from different back ground and different culture. - being friendly. - ask for help when i need it. - respect every one and thank them when they help me. when people get the respect they need and see that you are eager to learn they actually give you the help and knowledge you need.

3. Tell us about an occasion when you have taken the initiative to learn and develop yourself in significantly new ways. Why did you want to do this, what did you do and what was the result?(300 word limit imposed) *

in my bachelor when i decide to build an autonomous quad copter. i wanted to do it because i actually wanted to have a bachelor project that shows my strengths that is actually challenging and needs a lot of work. something that would make me special. i did alot of self study and i failed many times until i came to this result: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eNft4heWTY>

4. Tell us about a time when you saw the opportunity to really make a difference for the future of an activity, team or organization. What did you do, what obstacles did you overcome, and what happened as a result? (300 word limit imposed) *

when i decide to join the student union sports committee to improve the conditions of athletes in the GUC and improve sports in general in my university. main obstacles i had to overcome is old mentalities and the time consuming decision taking process of the administration. the result is a solid entity that is able to find problems analyze them and look for reasonable solutions.

5. Tell us about a time when you have had to analyse and understand a complex situation in order to make decisions and put a plan into action. What did you do and what was the outcome? (300 word limit imposed) *

when i was picked as the sports committee head i had other 15 fellow sports committee members each of which was elected and had a different agenda and gave promises to students. the challenge was to build a team that shared the same vision, goals and of course the same agenda. we filtered all there goals and worked on one action plan for the rest of the year that all of the team thought was good for our situation and the result was a "TEAM" and great problem solvers.
